Thumbnail sketches

Thumbnail sketches are quick drawings that are usually very small. They help artists to remember important features or plan what a finished piece of artwork will look like.

Comparing street views

Artwork can be compared. The colour, form, texture or composition of two pieces of artwork can be similar or different.

James Rizzi

James Rizzi (1950-2011) was an American pop artist. He used painting, printing and sculpture in his work. His style was bright and colourful. He usually included tall buildings and people in his pictures. He used foam blocks to make parts of his work stand out. His pictures were inspired by everyday life in New York where he lived.

Cardboard layering

technique

Layers of corrugated cardboard can be glued to the back of cutouts to create a 3-D effect.

Five layers of cardboard make this window stand out.

Murals

A mural is a large picture that is usually painted onto a wall, ceiling or other structure.
